This textbook is to help students taking the Caribbean Advance Proficiency Examination (CAPE) in Accounting Unit 2 Cost and Management Accounting. Students can enhance their problem solving, computational and accounting skill by using the model answers to past examination questions. The book presents a preview of the type of response you will have to give to the questions in the actual examinations. The book provides suggested solutions to students for past examination papers. The author has served as a CAPE Examining Assistant for the past 15 years and is very acquainted with the style of questions and the solutions required. My approach to preparing the answers has been both of an examiner and teacher. I am fully aware of the frustrations many candidates face in formatting and presenting their responses of this particular unit and have sought to address this problem. You can use the layouts suggested. The book provides suggested responses to question papers for the years 2012 - 2019. These are the years covered by the present syllabus. The solutions are clearly laid out according to each year and each module. Students can obtain the relevant examination papers from the Caribbean Examinations Council and work them through by modules and compare their response with the one given here. The book will also be useful to teachers in preparing their students for taking this exam.

Collins CAPE Revision Guides focus on the content and skills students need to master for success in CAPE examinations. They cover all aspects of the syllabus and provide excellent help with exam preparation. Collins CAPE Revision Guide - ACCOUNTING is an essential exam prep title for all students sitting CAPE Accounting.

Textbook provides complete coverage of the CAPE Biology Unit 2 syllabus. There are worked examples, a glossary of important biological terms, end of chapter questions in a range of formats (multiple choice, structured and essay questions) and a summary of key ideas at the end of the chapter

Two new titles that provide comprehensive coverage of the syllabus. Units 1 and 2 of Biology for CAPE® Examinations provide a comprehensive coverage of the CAPE® Biology syllabus. Written by highly experienced, internationally bestselling authors Mary and Geoff Jones and CAPE® Biology teacher and examiner Myda Ramesar, both books are in full colour and written in an accessible style. Learning objectives are presented at the beginning of each chapter, and to assist students preparing for the examination, each chapter is followed by questions in the style they will encounter on their examination papers.

This book is a collection of seven in-depth and detailed research papers authored by Dr. Raman K Attri between 1996 to 2005. The book presents early-career scientific work by the author as a scientist at a research organization. The book provides the conceptual background and key electronics and mechanical design principles used in designing sensors and instrumentation systems to measure snow hydrological parameters. The systems discussed in this book can be used to measure snow depth, layer temperature, temperature distribution profile, surface porosity, etc. The snow parameters measured from instruments and sensors discussed in this book are integrated into larger systems and are used in computer-driven models for snow avalanche predictions. The book presents the design challenges and design methods from electronics and instrumentation design point of view. While the book provides essential understanding of analog electronics design and associated mechanical design for snow hydrological sensors, the book also presents the background theoretical and mathematical models from snow hydrology physics that governs this electronics design. The first research paper discusses the design control techniques used to design a remote surface detector to detect objects with porous, uneven, irregular surfaces like snow using ultrasonic beams. The second research paper describes signal processing techniques and electronics design approaches to design a snow depth sensor with improved sensitivity and directional response using Ultrasonic Pulse-Transit Method. The third research paper explains theoretical and mathematical model that governs the physical, mechanical, and electronics design to implement the theory of Arrayed Ultrasonic transducers to shape up the directional response and beam width of an ultrasonic beam to improve the chances of receiving sufficient reflection from the non-smooth, highly porous, uneven, non-planar, irregular snow surface. The fourth paper presents the design considerations and performance characteristics of Snow Temperature Profile Sensing System used to measure the temperature gradient and temperature distributions within and outside the snowpack at different depths. The fifth research paper focuses on describing the design of Snow Temperature Profile Sensing System in details and discusses the theoretical and mathematical model that outline important temperature parameters. Then the paper describes how the system is implemented to record or measure those parameters. The sixth paper presents the design considerations, constraints and design techniques used to use RTD temperature sensors for snow temperature measurement applications. The paper also presents the performance evaluation and suitability of such sensors. The seventh paper focuses design techniques for front-end analog signal conditioning module and the design challenges faced when interfacing analog unit to a data acquisition system. The eighth paper describes the design of snow air temperature sensing probe and methods to ensure that it measures true air temperature over a snow cover and is not influenced by solar radiations and winds. The book may be read as an applied text-book in conjunction with standard electronics and instrumentation design textbooks. The book will guide students on how to apply basic principles of instrumentation systems design, integrate concepts of physical sciences and measurement sciences for the field applications.

A range of resources for CAPE has been specially developed to meet the requirements of the CAPE syllabus. This new textbook has been developed to match the requirements of the CAPE Management of Business syllabus. Full coverage of the CAPE syllabus is provided and the content has a clear focus on the Caribbean economic and business environment. A distinctive feature is the provision of examination-type questions at the end of each major section. The questions come with a suggested time limits for answering, giving useful practice in how to allocate time for the final examination. Management of Business for CAPE includes case studies from a variety of countries and industries, as well as an internal assessment component.

This book is primarily intended for anyone taking the Caribbean Advance Proficiency Examinations in Accounting Unit 2, Paper 1. It will also be useful for those who are studying for other Multiple Choice Examinations in Cost and Management Accounting at an Intermediate Level. The book contains over 450 questions arranged into eleven chapters, each covering a different section and topic of the Syllabus. The questions are structured to increase your understanding and give you an opportunity to apply the accounting concepts you have learnt. It will also provide valuable familiarity with the type of questions you are likely to encounter in the examination. The book is meant to be used along with a textbook. I recommend the use of the CAPE Accounting Unit Two, Study Guide, since the chapter headings are similar to the topical headings in this book. The book will also be useful for revision.
